CHEAP TRICKS!!

It's that time again – Spring Cleaning! Here are a few interesting things that might make your job a little easier and more fun.

Fiberglass tubs and showers are nothing more than a glorified Corvette. Once you give them a cleaning, try putting on a coat of car wax. Future soap scum won't stick to the wax, so it will be easier for you to clean the next time.

Yes.....hair spray really does take out some spots and stains. Especially ball point pen ink. That's because it contains a lot of lacquer and alcohol which are both great solvents. Try it.

The neighbors are coming for dinner!!! You want the china and wine glasses to sparkle, but don't panic. Just run them through your dishwasher using a powdered citrus drink mix—like Tang–instead of using soap. The acid will remove hard water spots and soap streaks. And for extra added bonus, it will also remove stains that have built up inside the dishwasher!

When you go to clean the ceiling fans, add some liquid fabric softener to the water. This removes static electricity, so the fan won't attract dust and dirt so quickly.

You're blowing out your birthday candles on the cake, and wax sprays all over the tablecloth or carpet. Just set a clean absorbent cloth over the wax and hold a hot iron on top of it. The wax melts and sticks to the cloth.
